

Archdiocese of Toronto

Catholic Response to COVID-19

May 8, 2020

We pray that you and your loved ones are safe and healthy during this time of uncertainty.

We would like to share with you a reflection from Cardinal Thomas Collins, Archbishop of Toronto, related to the pandemic, sacramental restrictions and planning for a return to sacramental life.

In the communication, His Eminence references a number of working groups that have been planning for the days and weeks ahead as we all look forward to when our churches will be open for worship. Both the Archdiocese of Toronto and your local parish will keep you informed as we prepare to re-open our churches, at a time when it is safe to do so. You can visit your local parish website or stay updated online at: www.archtoronto.org/covid19

Please take a moment to view the letter from Cardinal Collins here.

Thank you for your continued patience. We join in collective prayer, anticipating the day that we may all be together once again.

PS: Please share this message with fellow parishioners. If someone shared this message with you, and you'd like to receive future correspondence, please subscribe here.